

COME BACK TO ME

Do you remember the day when you came to me, and loved me like a friend?
Everything was brand-new. You burned with fire of a heart that was born again.

But now you've grown so cold with the ways of the world, you never speak my name.

To call out to me seems a waste of time. It's as if I'm now your shame.

Come home, my child, to the love you left. Let me wipe away your tears.
Sit and talk with me as you did back then. Tell me about all of your fears.
How I long to embrace you with all of my love as I did those years ago.
Come back to me. I've never let go of the love you used to know.

Can you taste my tears as I call out to you? As if to deaf ears I plead!
Can you feel my nudge on your hardened heart? Open it again to me.
I've been right here. I've never left you. I'm waiting for your call.
Come back to me, my child, come home. Let me tear down that wall.

Come home, my child, to the love you left. Let me wipe away your tears.
Sit and talk with me as you did back then. Tell me about all of your fears.
How I long to embrace you with all of my love as I did those years ago.
Come back to me. I've never let go of the love you used to know.

(instrumental)

I'm still right here. Please remember today, this cry from your first love's heart,

I'm still the one who reached out to you, and loved you right from the start!

Come home, my child, to the love you left. Let me wipe away your tears.
Sit and talk with me as you did back then. Tell me about all of your fears.
How I long to embrace you with all of my love as I did those years ago.
Come back to me. I've never let go of the love you used to know.
